

10101 Dickens Avenue, Bethesda, Maryland

Outside

Rich architectural accents add character

This is the home you've always wanted. Picture perfect in every way: reflecting your aspirations, your taste, your lifestyle. Step back and admire the curb appeal. Steep soaring rooflines and elegant low-maintenance siding combine character with practicality. Step up to the front porch. Take in the charm and grace of detailed columns and window shutter accents. Everywhere you look, you discover rich architectural features found in much larger homes. The covered rear porch is a perfect spot to relax and unwind, while enjoying the beauty of the rear yard.

Inside

Appointed to please, designed to impress

A stately foyer draws you into this superbly crafted home. As you move easily from room to room, you realize this magnificent residence exceeds your every expectation. The main level's relaxed functional floor plan is perfect for family living and entertaining. Situated adjacent to the foyer, a secluded study provides the ideal retreat for private conversation or reading. Three large windows in the dining room, richly accented in high trim wainscoting, catch the eye and create a beautiful sunlit space. The formal powder room, privately located off the foyer, is among the many thoughtful touches.

Enter the sumptuously appointed kitchen, a natural gathering place for family and friends. Here you'll discover easy-care, granite countertops and Energy Star-rated appliances. The adjacent breakfast nook is ideal for daily family meals and offers an oversized pantry. This space flows effortlessly into the expansive family room, where you'll delight to a coffered ceiling, gas fireplace, and stunning picture window overlooking the charming back yard. The mudroom has beadboard paneling, custom lockers, a bench and a large closet, and is conveniently located just off the covered rear porch near the garage.

Ascend the stairway to discover four impressive bedrooms and three full baths. The auxiliary bedrooms feature oversized closets. The baths, richly detailed in designer tile and low-flow WaterSense plumbing fixtures, bestow that added touch of creature comfort. Two huge walk-in closets off the master suite offer tremendous storage space. And, as your own private oasis, the adjoining master bath is graciously accented in imported tile with a separate shower and, of course, "his" and "hers" vanities with easy-care countertops. The laundry room, with a utility sink, is conveniently located on the upper level which makes doing laundry much less time-consuming.

The fully finished lower level comes standard and enhances the living space of the home. It all starts with the natural light that can only come with full-sized windows in window-wells in the bedroom. Enjoy the large recreation room by entertaining, playing pool, working on hobbies or watching football. And, there's a fifth bedroom and full bath for extra guests. Or install your own private exercise gym or media room. The possibilities are endless.